Introduction

Welcome

to the Ministry Matters Programme for 2018-2019.

Once again you will find a range of events and programmes that we hope will appeal to those in every kind of ministry in the Diocese of Southwark. It includes events organised by the Departments of Mission, Vocations and Justice, Peace & the Integrity of Creation as well as Discipleship and Ministry. There are areas of overlap, for example events focussed on prayer and spirituality can be found throughout this booklet.

Ministry Matters contains details of all events open to those holding the Bishop's licence or commission, together with some events open to all in church leadership. A separate booklet, Deepening Discipleship, contains information about courses open to everyone in the Diocese of Southwark.

We hope that by continuing to publish the list of courses available for the whole year, you will be able to prioritise and plan for your own development needs, and have a source of reference through the year as new needs arise.

Booking details vary and are given on the relevant pages. In the event of any problem, or if you simply wish to know more about a particular course or event, please contact Caroline Wakelam-Jones, in the Department of Discipleship and Ministry.

This programme is shaped by the comments we receive from those ministering in the Diocese. To serve your needs we welcome feedback on this programme and the courses you attend and are always delighted to receive your comments.

Contributors

Jane Williams is Assistant Dean and Lecturer in Systematic Theology at St Mellitus College. In this capacity, she works with people called to ordination, and people called by God to love and serve the Church in all the other roles it needs. Jane read theology at Cambridge, when it was not possible for women to be priests in the Church of England. She probably assumed that 'one day' she would be ordained, but as it happens, her call is instead to be a lay theologian. Jane is the author of a number of books, including Lectionary Reflections, Years A,B, C; Why Did Jesus Have to Die; The Art of Advent (forthcoming).

Rosemarie Gotobed Davidson is the Church of England's National Minority Ethnic Vocations Officer. She has been in post for nearly two years, with a role to be a resource for dioceses working to develop and increase their numbers of Black Asian and Minority Ethnic potential candidates attending BAP. Prior to joining Church House, Rosemarie was freelance: designing and delivering courses and seminars on cross-cultural understanding for churches, church organisations and theological colleges.

John Spence is the Chair of the Archbishop's Council Finance Committee and a member of the Archbishop's Spending Review Taskforce and Chelmsford Cathedral Council. In this role he has been a powerful advocate of the Renewal and Reform Programme. He is a County Councillor in Essex County Council and a trustee of organisations which vary from Business in the Community to the Royal Zoological Society of Scotland. John also holds a number of Directorships in the business and enterprise sectors. Prior to his current roles, John had a career in banking, rising through the ranks at Lloyds until he retired as Director of Policy, Co-Ordination and Risk in 2005. A family man, and now proud grandfather, John lists his interests as cooking and eating, theatre, listening to sport, swimming, gardening and motorcycling (yes really - other drivers beware!).

The Clergy Study Day in 2019 will take place on Tuesday 15 October

Black History Month Celebration

Saturday
6 Oct
10.00 am-
3.00 pm

Black History Month Celebration: 70/70 Vision, History, Story, Legacy

Diocesan Minority Ethnic Anglican Concerns Groups

Southwark Cathedral

This year's Thanksgiving Event celebrates the history and legacy of Black, Asian and Minority Ethnic people in the UK. Marking the 70 year anniversary of both the arrival of HMT Empire Windrush and the creation of the National Health Service, the event is focussed on the impact of migration on the story of the NHS and British society. We look at the legacy of past generations on future British BAME young people.

Guests include The Revd Prebendary Rose Hudson-Wilkin and a variety of musicians. A specially commissioned icon will be unveiled at the event.

As usual, there will be a service of celebration followed by workshops with our guest contributors.

Mental Health in our Parishes: Seminar

Elizabeth Booker

Mind in Croydon, Fairfield House, 10 Altyre Rd, Croydon CR0 5LA

Mental health difficulties affect as many as one in three people in the UK. With loneliness and isolation cited as major factors in some of the most common mental health difficulties, the church is in a valuable position to support the wellbeing of its congregation and wider community. This workshop will focus on the most common mental health difficulties and look at ways in which the church can respond.

Anglicans & Judaism: a new look at what we preach and teach

Jane Clements

Trinity House

This workshop follows the publication of a new document by the Faith and Order Commission which looks at the Church of England's understanding of Judaism. It examines Anglican-Jewish relations and how as Christians we understand, teach and preach about Judaism. Dr Jane Clements, founder of the Forum for Discussion of Israel and Palestine, has worked for many years in the interfaith field, taking study groups to Israel and the West Bank. Jane is a recipient of the Hubert Walter Award for Reconciliation and Interfaith.

Mission Action Planning

Mission Action Planning is a method of discerning and directing the life of our church communities. As part of the Bishop's vision for our Diocese, every parish should have a MAP which is regularly reviewed through a cycle of reflection and review, decision-making and action.

Through MAP whole churches are encouraged to pray about and participate in setting the vision and goals that will serve the mission of God in the areas where they live. These three sessions will explore how to encourage involvement in Mission Action Planning. They cover how to make MAP a flexible and responsive tool, and how to review and reset your plan.

Tuesday
30 Oct
10.00 am -
1.00 pm

MAP 1: an introduction to MAP as a tool for mission

Jay Colwill

Trinity House

This session will introduce Mission Action Planning (MAP) as a tool for developing a shared vision and identifying priorities for mission. We will look at the principles behind MAP and the process of producing a MAP by: understanding the parish context, reviewing current activities, evaluating the feasibility for of new initiatives and discerning the next steps for implementation

For those who are engaging in all stages of the MAP process

19 Feb
10.00 am -
1.00 pm

MAP 2: Implementation & Learning

Jay Colwill

Trinity House

This session will look at embedding a Mission Action Plan as a dynamic work in progress, an opportunity for implementing an ongoing action and reflection learning cycle discipleship and mission. There will be time for parishes to share their experience of MAP and to review the process in a supportive environment.

For those who are engaging in all stages of the MAP process

Tuesday
4 June
10.00 am -
1.00 pm

MAP 3: Setting Objectives & Measuring Progress

Jay Colwill

Trinity House

What is progress in mission terms and how do we define and measure it? Using theological perspectives this session will look at setting concrete objectives and implementing SMART plans in a faith context. We will ask what this approach has to offer and how it can help us to effectively evaluate our progress and mission?

For those who are engaging in all stages of the MAP process

Reaching & Ministering to Men

Jay Colwill and guests

Trinity House

Whilst men make up 50% of the population, it is rare that they make up 50% of a Sunday congregation (or gathered Christian Community.) Why is that? What is it about Christian and secular culture that is hindering numerical and spiritual growth amongst men?

How can we address this in order to make church and the Christian faith more accessible to men?

*A ‘brunch break’ will be included
Open to all in ministry or leadership*

Saturdays
tbc
10.00 am -
3.30 pm

Reaching residents in new housing

Jay Colwill and guests

Each Episcopal Area

How can ‘traditional’ parish structures connect with new residents in new communities? (These could be housing developments of 20+ housing to strategic outreach to developments of 1000+ flats!)

How can parishes be creative in their approach whilst recognising the limitations of their resources?

Each parish or Christian community should come in a group of no less than two people- preferably larger!

Open to all in ministry or leadership

Developing a New Monastic Community in the Parish, Deanery or Diocesan Context

Karen Ward and Ian Mobsby

Trinity House

This day is open to those who are interested in New Monasticism, those wanting to and those committed to starting forms of New Monastic Community and new missional and/or religious communities in the parish, deanery and diocesan context. This day is aimed clergy and lay or ordained pioneers wanting to go deeper with this model and explore the practical implications of setting up such a project, and those who are taking forward Diocesan-backed New Monasticism projects developing 'schools of conversion' or non-residential or residential forms of missional and ecclesial community. The day will give an opportunity to explore now only how to do it, but the relevance of this form of community to reach out to those who are socially or economically deprived, and also to the increasing number of de-and-unchurched people who would call themselves 'Spiritual Not Religious'.

Dementia Friendly Church

Andrew Davey

Trinity House

Dementia is a growing issue and how we give space for people with dementia to encounter and experience God is something that more churches are giving thought to. We will explore some possible ways of setting up parish or deanery dementia-friendly fresh expressions. This is a stand-alone event, but is also an ideal follow-up to 'How can Christians respond to Dementia', see p34.

The Revd Dr Andrew Davey is vicar of Holy Trinity, Upper Tooting.

Mission and Evangelism Courses

Leading Your Church into Growth

This course is for churches that are looking to grow - in numbers, mission or discipleship. It offers a chance to discuss what works (and what doesn't) in a friendly and supportive atmosphere. Topics covered include changing attitudes, positive leadership and community.

The course is tailored according to the needs of individual churches. Dates to be announced.

msm

Mission Shaped Ministry

As our culture changes Christians have explored how we might do Church as a result. This course is aimed at teams from churches who are exploring new ways of reaching out to their communities by seeking to form fresh expressions of Church. It will be helpful to those thinking about or planning a fresh expression, or currently running one.

The course will take place on Tuesdays from January 2019 at Christ Church, 863 Brighton Road, Purley, CR8 2BN

Vocations

Vocations

The information on these pages is provided in order that those in authorised ministries can encourage vocation in others. Vocations Days provide the opportunity to explore and reflect on calling in a friendly and inspiring environment. These are fully funded by the Diocese, and so are free to all participants. All participants will need the support of their incumbent or chaplain.

Vocations Quiet Days and Retreats offer a mixture of short talks, led reflections, creative prayer, and plenty of space for silent prayer and reflection, giving participants the opportunity to explore their own journey of faith, and to reflect on the ways in which God is calling.

Facilitating for Parishes

Mick Kain

Trinity House

Skills in facilitation are useful for chairing meetings, leading events, and delivering training. This training day will offer insight from studies of meetings and group formation to enable participants to deepen their facilitation skills. By the end of the day you will have:

- Been introduced to a framework for understanding group and meeting performance.
- A check list of the key facilitation skills.
- Reflected on your own facilitation style and identified how to develop it.

The day will be participative and reflective, supported by presentations and exercises.

Mick Kain is a freelance organisational consultant with a background in group work in the mental health sector. He now trains and facilitates managers, mostly in the Housing and International Development sectors, and works with a number of Anglican dioceses, including Southwark, London and Oxford.

An introduction to Reflective Practice groups

Jan Korris and Maureen King

Trinity House

Would you value a safe place to reflect on your ministry, the challenges and the personal cost? Reflective Practice groups provide all those things with professional facilitation. They are provided free to clergy in the Diocese of Southwark with support from St Luke's Charity.

This day offers an introduction to compassionate self care, reflective practice and working in groups, together with the opportunity to experience a group session. Those who attend will be offered a place in a group meeting regularly from January 2019.

An experienced incumbent in the Diocese wrote recently...

"My Reflective Practice Group is an incredible resource and I have found it to lead to some profound learning and self reflection. It's a privilege to be in a diocese where I have access to this kind of resource to help me take stock and reflect on "who I am" in ministry and "how I am" as a minister."

Difficult Conversations

Mick Kain and Mandy Ford

Trinity House

Sometimes in Parish life we need to have tricky conversations. We may need to introduce a challenging issue, stand up for ourselves, or hold a line on something. We will probably feel uncomfortable about beginning, and may fear the feelings it may invoke. While there is no way to magic the difficulty away there are skilled ways of approaching fierce conversations that can help.

- By the end of the day you will have:
- A deeper understanding of what makes conversations difficult.
- Information about what makes conversations constructive.
- Practical ideas for making difficult conversations manageable.
- Reflected on your own skills and identified how to develop them.

The day will be participative, supported by presentations and exercises.

31 Oct & 1 Nov
27 & 28 Feb
9.00 am -
5.00 pm

3d Coaching

Trinity House

Have you experienced a conversation that has shifted your thinking in a short time? Do you want to be able to have conversations like that in your ministry? Transforming Conversations can help you

- have better conversations
- help others to have lightbulb moments
- have clearer outcomes from conversations
- be clear what next steps are
- and what and whose the next steps are

Transforming Conversations is practical and based on sound theory. Having better conversations means you'll be changing your behaviour and that takes practice. The course is run in a group setting over 4 days with a gap between the second and third days to allow you to process what you are learning. You will have the chance to be coached in between.

Most people use Transforming Conversations in their current role, and it is particularly recommended for Area Deans and those reviewing or supervising others in ministry.

'Brilliantly organised & facilitated. Best run course I've been on. Really seeing the value of something I was initially sceptical about'

Taking the next step: a workshop for women clergy

Mary Golden

Trinity House

This is a half day workshop designed to assist women clergy in applying for their next role in the church (whether that's imminent, or a long way off). We will look at completing the application form more effectively, including the use of appropriate language, and consider how to prepare for interviews. Women are currently under-represented at senior levels across the church and this course will be an invaluable aid for women clergy looking to move on, at some stage, from their current post.

The training will be enhanced if you can bring along an application form you have completed previously or details of a post you are interested in.

Mary Golden (FCIPD, MA, PhD) is a qualified executive coach and HR consultant with substantial experience of the public and voluntary sector. She is also an active member of her local church and sits on the PCC.

Cursillo Retreat

Cursillo Team

Wychcroft, RH1 4NE

Thursday -
Sunday
25-28 Oct

Cursillo is a worldwide movement of the Church providing a tried and tested method by which Christians are empowered to grow through prayer, study and action. The movement originated in Mallorca in the aftermath of the Spanish Civil War. The clergy prepared lay leaders for a pilgrimage to Santiago de Compostela to encourage renewal of the faith amongst the younger generation. The leaders were prepared through short courses in Christianity (cursillos).

These courses were so beneficial to spiritual growth that their content has remained at the heart of the three-day weekend, which is still on offer to this day.

It is a time for deepening our relationship with God and for fresh commissioning to Christian leadership. There is an ongoing support network of faith sharing in group reunions at the local and Diocesan level, which sharpen our commitment to discipleship and promote accountability to one another in the faith.

Choosing Life: a retreat for those seeking a new direction in their lives

Christopher Chapman

Wychcroft, RH1 4NE

Choices face us within our relationships, work, and ministry. Sometimes we are aware of a specific choice that is ours to make; at other times what we recognise is the need for change, without seeing where this leads us. Sometimes events jolt us out of our former path and we don't know how to respond.

Drawing on themes and prayer exercises from the Ignatian Spiritual Exercises this retreat will provide the space and resources to explore new directions, as we become aware of the invitation of the Spirit.

God desires to lead us into our own truth: a truth will set us free and enable our lives to be fruitful.

Christopher Chapman is the former Spirituality Adviser for the Diocese of Southwark. He is an experienced retreat leader and spiritual director and author of Seeing in the Dark and Earthed in God: Four movements of spiritual growth.

*Open to all
£150.00 per person
Includes all meals and drinks*

Safeguarding

Safeguarding: Introduction

The Diocese offers an extensive programme of safeguarding training for individuals in a range of roles and responsibilities in our parishes and other settings. Safeguarding courses form part of the IME programme and are also available as part of ongoing ministerial development.

Our safeguarding training programme is aimed at equipping church officers to implement safe working practices within the church environment for children, young people and adults who may be vulnerable. It seeks to enable and promote sensitive and effective responses to allegations and emerging safeguarding concerns. We focus on the importance of responding well to those who have been harmed, working with others as part of a team within the parish, using the support available across the Diocese and engaging with external partners. We aim to ensure that all those attending our courses leave with an enhanced understanding of their safeguarding responsibilities, an awareness of the relevant policies and procedures, and knowledge of when and where to access additional advice and support. We use a range of case studies and exercises to explore good practice.

The diocesan safeguarding programme is aligned to the national Safeguarding Learning and Development Framework as approved by the House of Bishops in 2016. It includes a one day safeguarding course for incumbents, licensed and authorised ministers (C3). That course is available during 2018/9 both to those new to the Diocese and to those already in ministry in Southwark.

There are minimum requirements for participation in safeguarding training for all those who hold the Bishop's licence, commission or permission to officiate.

For individuals who have previously attended safeguarding training in the Diocese, we offer opportunities to refresh and extend knowledge through a Safeguarding Refresher Workshop (C5). There are regular courses available on Responding to Domestic Abuse (S3) and we offer some additional workshops in other areas e.g. Safeguarding and the Seal of Confession.

Bookings

The current programme for 2018/19 is available on the Diocesan website via the following link:

http://southwark.anglican.org/downloads/safeguarding/safeguarding_training_programme_2018-2019.pdf

Carol Rimmer, our Safeguarding Training Administrator, is able to advise on which courses are most appropriate for an individual's needs as well as to signpost individuals to our online booking system via Eventbrite.
